

UNFORESEEN ENCOUNTERS

The disease is spreading fast and killing more people on earth every day. Nine-year-old Todd has been showing strange behaviors since birth, he possesses destructive powers and has super-human abilities. No one knows why! Assuming Todd's behavior and strange occurrences in the house to be paranormal in nature, Todd's father, Alex, and the boy's live-in nanny and home schooling teacher, Emma, who Alex is secretly in love with, decide to rent a house and move to an entirely different state, hoping the bizarre occurrences will fade away. The trio are driving cross country when armed government agents stop, apprehend and transfer to a secret research facility. The lead investigator believes Todd is in communication with extraterrestrials and is helping them plan an attack on earth. Alex Denies any knowledge about this. But he tells the investigator all he has seen his son do and how he has seen him behave throughout the years. Believing Alex's oblivion, agents reveal their findings (This explains crop circles) and that aliens have been in contact with Todd for a very long time. Todd who is unconscious and under strict medical observation wakes up controlled by the aliens. He frees himself, overpowers the security, and joins his father and the others. Using Todd's voice, the aliens clarify that they are not the enemy and have no plan on destroying the earth. But the disease that man-made pollution has created is spreading fast and will wipe out all life forms on earth within the next 50 days. That they've been here on earth, creating hybrids (This explains black-eyed children). That Todd is a second-generation hybrid, his mother was first-generation and not entirely human. That they have recently noticed Todd's presence can cure the disease, which has also infected some of their own kinds. They admit they want to take Todd with them to cure their infected hybrids. The aliens finish communication and leave and the officials decide to keep Todd even if they have to use force against the aliens. It is time for the aliens to take Todd. A vessel levitates towards the facility to pick Todd. Armed forces attack it to prevent it from taking Todd. (A futuristic battle) Todd, realizes the severity of the situation and decides to remain on earth. He uses his powers and fights the extraterrestrials. But they threaten to kill everybody if Todd resists any more. The humans lose the battle. To prevent more casualties, Todd makes a deal with the aliens. He will go with them, help cure the hybrids, and in return the aliens will let him go back to the earth one day. So, Todd says goodbye to his father and Emma in an emotional scene. He transfers some of his energy to his orb toy and gives it to his father and tells him it can cure the disease and save people. He also orders the officials to clean up the pollution and keep the planet clean. Todd enters the vessel and leaves. Later, we see the earth is clean. Emma is with Alex. She's pregnant.
